

Homer C. La Rue

ARBITRATOR MEDIATOR PROFESSOR OF LAW

Biographical Sketch

Professor La Rue is a law professor at the Howard University School of Law in Washington, D.C. In addition to his other duties, Professor La Rue directs the ADR curriculum at the Law School. He has recently initiated an externship program with the World Bank Group Internal Justice System. Professor La Rue is an arbitrator and mediator of labor-management and employment disputes. He has more than thirty years of experience as an arbitrator and a mediator.

Professor La Rue has lectured and trained extensively, both domestically and internationally, in the areas of arbitration and mediation. He is a past chair of the ABA Section of Dispute Resolution. Professor La Rue is a member of National Academy of Arbitrators and a past member its Board of Governors. Professor La Rue also is a Distinguished Fellow in the International Academy of Mediators and has served s on its Board of Governors.